Sarah,

Brad and I are in a 5-day arbitration this week in San Francisco. This morning, the judge informed us he is leaving on vacation on Friday, so we are trying to fit everything in 4 days.

Because of the arbitration, and because we need still need to complete the meet and confer, would your client be willing to grant our clients their first two-week extension to file their motion to dismiss that is due this Wednesday to your client's First Amended Complaint in the federal action?

Otherwise, we will have to move the Court for the extension without your assent.

Best,

Eric
